

Highland Schools' Child Protection Policy Ullapool High School

'Safer Highland' believes that every child/young person, regardless of age, has at all times, in all situations a right to feel safe and protected from any situation or practice which results in the child/young person being physically or emotionally damaged.

In Ullapool High school we are committed to creating an environment in which children/young people are safe from abuse and in which any suspicion of abuse is responded to promptly and appropriately. The well-being of children/young person in our care takes precedence over any other consideration. It is the clear responsibility of all staff involved in Ullapool High school to adopt good practice throughout their work.

In order to achieve this we will:

- Follow the Highland Practice Model (GIRFEC) to work in partnership with parents, carers, Highland Council colleagues and other agencies to promote good practice in the area of child protection.
- Update any changes in child protection policy and practice under the guidance from the designated person in the school
- Endeavour to ensure that all staff have access to appropriate child protection training every three years (two years for the designated CP lead), supervision and support in order to implement this policy effectively and with the minimum of stress.

The detailed arrangements, systems and procedures for ensuring that the above policy statements are fully implemented are contained in the "Inter-Agency Guidelines to Protect Children and Young People in Highland" published by the Highland Child Protection Committee.

Child abuse is a criminal offence. All staff working in Ullapool High school have an ethical duty to report any reasonable concern that a child may be being abused.

The role of members of staff is to inform the designated person and/or Named Person of any instance, which suggests that abuse is taking place. It is not the role of the member of staff to wait for proof, investigate or gather evidence of abuse.

When a child/young person tells an adult about possible abuse, his or her statements should not be dismissed or ignored. The adult should attend carefully to what the child wants to communicate, taking account of the child's/young person's age and stage of development, and allow the child/young person to say what he or she wants to say without being drawn into detailed questioning.

REMEMBER:

Any concerns about the well-being of a child/young person need to be shared.

No matter how good we are at evaluating and assessing matters to do with children, when it comes to the child's/young person's welfare we cannot evaluate and assess potential danger, risk, damage, as we only know a tiny part of the whole picture. We must share our concerns with the designated/Named Person.

 - a child/young person is seen in the company of people, either adults or children, who may be putting the child at risk;
 - a specific allegation of child maltreatment has been made;
 - there are anxieties that a child may be experiencing continuing maltreatment or neglect; or

The member of staff must: RECORD

Respond without showing any signs of disquiet, anxiety or shock. Take what the child/young person says seriously.

Observe carefully the demeanour or behaviour of the child/young person..

Record in written detail, as soon as possible, what has been seen and heard.

Do not interrogate or enter into detailed investigations: rather encourage the child/young person to say what he/she wants until enough information is gained to decide whether or not a referral is appropriate.

Members of staff must not

- Investigate suspected/alleged abuse themselves
- Evaluate the grounds for concern
- Seek or wait for proof
- Discuss the matter with anyone other than SMT/Named Person.
